in order to gauge whether or not it would be worth my time, and all praised Emerging Issues in Government Financing: Government Officials on Regulating Budgets, Meeting Financing Needs, and Planning Around the Economic Recession (Inside the Minds):

Emerging Issues in Government Financing is an authoritative, insider's perspective on addressing state and local government fiscal concerns amidst economic instability. Featuring state and municipal directors of finance from across the country, this book provides a broad yet comprehensive overview of the challenges unique to managing a region's financial needs and implementing programs to protect critical services from funding reductions. These leaders articulate the finer points of the budget development process and offer suggestions on the best practices for issuing debt, overseeing public and private partnerships, and allocating funds for infrastructure projects. Additionally, the authors discuss the importance of maximizing current resources in order to avoid insolvency and stimulate economic development. The different niches represented and the breadth of perspectives presented enable readers to get inside some of the great minds in government today, as these experts reveal the secrets behind real budget management by relying first on established priorities. Inside the Minds provides readers with proven business intelligence from C-Level executives (Chairman, CEO, CFO, CMO, Partner) from the world's most respected companies nationwide, rather than third-party accounts from unknown authors and analysts. Each chapter is comparable to an essay/thought leadership piece and is a future-oriented look at where an industry, profession or topic is headed and the most important issues for the future.
