Fernando Castillo De La Torre, Eric Gippini Fournier : Evidence, Proof and Judicial Review in EU Competition Law (Elgar Competition Law and Practice series) before purchasing it in order to gauge whether or not it would be worth my time, and all praised Evidence, Proof and Judicial Review in EU Competition Law (Elgar

Competition Law and Practice series):

Fernando Castillo de la Torre and Eric Gippini Fournier, two of the most experienced competition litigators at the European Commission, undertake an in-depth analysis of the case law of the EU Courts on the rules of evidence, proof and judicial review, as they are applied in EU competition law. These topics often engage with fundamental rights, and the book takes stock of the most frequent criticisms that are made of the EU enforcement system and review by EU Courts. The result is an extremely thorough and well-structured review of the relevant rules of law and of the precedents. The authors combine valuable insights and critical analysis to construct a definitive yet balanced portrayal of the state of EU competition law. Key features include: unique insights from two of the most experienced litigators in EU competition law; the only comprehensive resource on the subject, including a wealth of case law and legislation; a clear structure designed specifically for legal practitioners, with detailed tables of contents and targeted access to the relevant provisions; an exhaustive examination of case law, including close theoretical analysis and detailed description of precedents with an eye to their practical application. This book will be an essential resource for all legal practitioners specialising in EU competition law. It will also appeal to lawyers involved in litigating and enforcing antitrust and competition law at the national level, in EU member states or other jurisdictions where rules of evidence and judicial review are inspired by the EU system.

'I warmly recommend this work to all those who are interested in the practical and procedural aspects of competition law and practice at EU level, whether they are judges, practitioners, academics, or indeed students. In my view, the authors have succeeded in producing an authoritative guide to the rules that govern evidence, proof and judicial review in EU competition law and I congratulate them on that considerable achievement.' --(Koen Lenaerts, President of the Court of Justice of the European Union) About the Author Fernando Castillo de la Torre and Eric Gippini Fournier, Legal Service, European Commission, Belgium
