Sara Jo Odom : How to Keep Insurance Settlements Simple : What Lawyers Don't Want You to Know before purchasing it in order to gage whether or not it would be worth my time, and all praised How to Keep Insurance Settlements Simple : What Lawyers Don't Want You to Know:

1 of 1 people found the following review helpful. Keep Insurance Settlements Simple - A Must ReadBy Paige DudleyI never thought I would enjoy a book about insurance claims. However, this book was easy to understand and a quick read. I was lucky enough to read it before I needed it so I was prepared when my husband got into an accident. Without this book as a reference, we would never have won our case. With the book we were armed with the tools we needed to prove our case and get our car fixed. The addresses alone were worth the money for the book. I would never have known where to go to get my questions answered. The insurance company wanted to settle quickly but we insisted we were not liable and we proved it. The book is full of definitions, references, examples and easy to follow instructions of what you need to do in many situations. This is a must have for any at home library.

How to Keep Insurance Settlements Simple is your guide to getting the settlement you deserve without having to hire a lawyer. Did someone do something wrong which caused an accident? Did that accident cause property damage or injury? If the answers are yes, then you have a potential liability claim. The ideas in this easy-to-read book can save you thousands of dollars in legal fees.

About the Author Sara Jo Odom is a graduate of the University of Oklahoma and a first-time author. She spent 20 years working as an insurance adjuster and investigator for a small, independent firm in New Hampshire. During those 20 years, she handled every type of insurance claim imaginable: slip and fall, children's claims, dog-bite, defamation of character, automobile, lead-paint poisoning, groundwater contamination, faulty design and construction, lumber, fallen-tree, poor workmanship and many other types of claims. About one-third of her work was with worker's compensation claims. She attended annual and quarterly workshops to keep up on current laws and insurance trends. She attended numerous court hearings and mediations, and was frequently requested to testify.
