Stephanie Hayman : Imprisoning Our Sisters: The New Federal Women's Prisons in Canada before purchasing it in order to gage whether or not it would be worth my time, and all praised Imprisoning Our Sisters: The New Federal Women's Prisons in Canada:

The federal Prison for Women in Kingston, an isolated, unsafe penitentiary closed in 2000. The author charts the development of the five new prisons that replaced it, including the Aboriginal headling lodge, placing her study within the context of Canadian colonial and political history.

"Hayman's refreshing perspectives will give new life to old debates." Kelly Hannah-Moffat, sociology, University of Toronto "This timely and important study is based on unique scholarship and documents with great precision the unfolding history of the prison." Margaret Shaw, International Centre for the Prevention of Crime, Montreal
