Barry Hawk : International Antitrust Law Policy: Fordham Corporate Law 2001 before purchasing it in order to gauge whether or not it would be worth my time, and all praised International Antitrust Law Policy: Fordham Corporate Law 2001:

The most definitive US/EC annual analysis of antitrust law. Examines the most recent antitrust issues and cases.

Professor Hawk and his contributors provide explanations of the myriad of US/EC structures, players and roles that impact antitrust policies.

"... the predominant forum for discussion of leading edge international antitrust issues. Both the conference and the published volume of proceedings are eagerly awaited events on the annual antitrust calendar." --A. Neil Campbell, Vice Chairman of Committee C, (Antitrust and Trade Law) International Bar Association, and; - J. William Rowley Former Chairman of Committee C, (Antitrust and Trade Law) International Bar Association."This is the largest single source of information and analysis on Community (now European Union) antitrust law anywhere. ... Also, some of the older papers are still the best statement of the legal principles in certain areas, even if there is recent case law." --- Common Market Law "The Panel discussions which come at the end of the articles on a given topic are not only a valuable source of information, but provide an insight into existing and potential future problems together with possible solutions." --- World Competition
